TRIANGLE FARMS

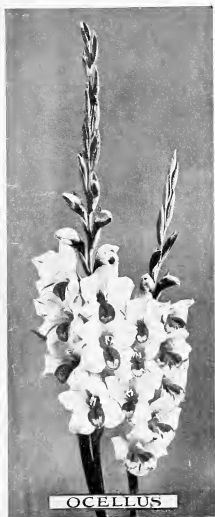

WHOLESALE

CIRCLEVILLE, OHIO

PRICE LIST

We take pleasure in presenting the TRIANGLE FARMS introductions to the growers and general wholesale trade. Some of these varieties have been widely advertised and are well known, while others are new; all are extra fine, "decidedly different" from the general run of glads. Each one is a good florist's variety, though some are also classed in the exhibition class by reason of their great size.

OCELLUS

Retail Price $7.00 Each

One of the outstanding figures in the gladiolus world. So different as to be almost startling. Imagine a pinkish lavender glad with a prominent violet blotch (sometimes two of them) on the lower petal. This blotch has a yellow marking at its tip. The combination and placement of the two colors causes an optical illusion, so that the violet blotch appears to be tubular, thus giving each individual floret the appearance of a cattleya orchid. Several florists have used single florets of OCELLUS for the centre of brides' bouquets in place of orchids, with perfect success.

Six to eight good sized blossoms open at one time; tall straight spikes; perfect placement of florets; everything a perfect glad should have. A bouquet of OCELLUS reminds one of a spray of peacock feathers.

What E. B. Swartley, commercial grower and authority on glads of Sterling, Ill., says is but the echo of what everyone who knows OCELLUS says—"OCELLUS bloomed today. It surely is a beauty and is bound to be a winner."

MARY O'MINE

Retail Price $5.00 Each

MARY O'MINE has been proved to be the largest white gladiolus in existence and stands shoulder to shoulder with the giant gladioli of all colors. Unlike many white glads, MARY O'MINE is as strong and as sturdy as a prim hybrid and almost as fast a propagator. Produces many cormels, which though small in size, all germinate readily without any coaxing.

No doubt this variety will take first place among white varieties both as a commercial and as an exhibition variety, for Gersdorff rates MARY O'MINE at 90 exhibition and 90.2 commercial.

It is hard to visualize an immense spike of pure white gladiolus blossoms with five or six open at one time and the bottom floret measuring eight inches across, but eight inch blossoms are not uncommon with MARY O'MINE.

At the 1928 National Gladiolus Show at Toledo, Ohio, MARY O'MINE won one first, one second and one third prize and was entered and grown by three different exhibitors. Says C. C. Piper, commercial grower and prominent gladiolus hybridizer of Portland, Oregon, "I am writing to tell you what I think of Mary O'Mine. I have the most wonderful bloom that ever grew on top of Mother Earth. Just think, spike 5 ft. tall, 10 open at one time and as white as the driven snow; second bloom from the bottom measuring 7½ inches across. Some glad!"

An article from the Toronto Globe, describing Dr. Frank E. Bennett's exhibit at the Toronto Exhibition in 1928, says, "There are at present 150 varieties on show, amongst them being many novelties from Australia, France and the United States, the most attractive being MARY O'MINE, a pure white flower measuring 7½ inches across."

If you want the biggest, best, whitest, white glad in the world, you'll never have it until you grow MARY O'MINE.

STAR BRIGHT

Retail Price 50c.

$4.50 Per Dozen

Another distinctly and decidedly different gladiolus. Tall, straight spikes with several well placed florets open at one time. Strong grower; rapid propagator; absolutely strong and healthy. Beautiful daffodil yellow blossoms with a broad and very distinct band or stripe of rose through the center of EVERY petal. Each flower is a perfect star. We have seen floral pieces representing the American flag in which each star in the blue field was represented by a floret of STARBRIGHT, making a very effective design. The extra length of stem possessed by this variety makes it especially useful when used in baskets.

ROSEMARY

Retail Price

$1.40 Per Dozen

There never was a glad like ROSEMARY. White, thickly marked with fine parallel hair lines and stippings of lavender-rose. The markings are carried clear through the petals so that the blossoms look the same from the back as from the front. Good sized blooms carried on tall graceful stems. Easily arranged in vase or basket for it is not necessary to have the stems to face outward as the backs of the blossoms are as handsome as their faces. Wonderful forcer; fully half of the No. 1 bulbs will give two spikes of bloom. The color is lavender by day and rose by night. A mighty fine general purpose glad.

BLENN—OUR INTRODUCTION FOR 1926

BLENN has about every good quality a glad should have. Immense blossoms of wonderful substances, frequently seven and one-half inches across and so intensely ruffled that the edges seem to be pleated by the hand of an expert needlewoman. The placement of the florets is perfect on the strong, tall willowy stem. But all this fades into insignificance when we consider the color, which is a rich glowing salmon pink with an immense cream colored throat, marked with fine inconspicuous parallel lines of purplish. The impression given is that of an enormous cream colored glad with a wide edge or frill of salmon pink. BLENN stands in a class by himself and will head the parade of new and worth-while glads for many a year. We believe BLENN to be the outstanding figure in the gladiolus world. Supply very limited. Only one bulb to a customer, at twenty-five dollars each.
